Exciting initiatives happening in IFI Education this year.

Short Course in Film for Junior Cycle

Would you like to explore and create film in the classroom with your Junior Cycle students? If so, you might be interested in delivering our Short Course in Film. The course incorporates a wide range of activities and key skills, and is an exciting new opportunity for students. The course specification is available from our website: www.ifi.ie/short-course. To find out more, contact Richard at rfallon@irishfilm.ie

Careers in Film Day at IFI

Mar 1, 10.30–15.30

With the Irish film industry thriving, there's never been a better time for young people to consider a future in film. Our Careers in Film Day is a fantastic opportunity for second-level students to hear from some of the people who work in Irish film and animation, learn from their experiences and see some of their work. Guests include Darragh O'Connell of Brown Bag Films, casting director Louise Kiely, and sound designer Steve Fanagan. Students may attend in groups or individually – tickets cost €5 each and booking is essential. For more information see www.ifi.ie/learn.

Careers in Film Day is a joint initiative from the Irish Film Institute and Audi Dublin International Film Festival, and is supported by the Irish Film Board.

New Screenings added!

TY/SENIOR ART

Loving Vincent

12A

Feb 20, 10.30

Animated entirely from oil paintings and featuring a cast of Irish and British talent, Loving Vincent tells the story of the last days of the eponymous artist through the vibrancy of his own work. Visually breathtaking throughout, this highly original film offers a glimpse into the psyche of the now legendary artist.

Sandra Hickey, production artist on Loving Vincent, will introduce this film.

Battle of the Sexes

12A

Mar 21, 10.30

Golden Globe nominee Emma Stone stars as the defiant tennis pro Billie Jean King who is compelled to do battle with retired pro and chauvinist Bobby Riggs (Steve Carell). Media scrutiny and King's own re-examination of her sexuality bring further challenges. Heaps of humour combine with an understated performance from Stone in this clever examination of the cultural changes of the 1970s.

UK/USA • 2017 • Biography/Comedy/Drama • 121 mins

Director: Simon Beaufoy
